A message from our

Class Advisor

Tiffany Sabasowitz

I wanted to take this opportunity to congratulate you all for graduating. I am so proud of each and every one of you. Many of you I had in my own classroom, and I am blessed to be able to say that I got to see you mature and grow into the young adults you are today.

Your class is the first class that I was an academic advisor for, and I loved every minute of it. I took on being your class advisor my second year of teaching and because of advising, I got to know some of you that I wouldn't have had the chance to meet had I not taken on this position. After being with you as your advisor for four years, I am so sad to see you go, but so so so much more happy to see you succeed, graduate, and grow up.

Your class definitely was one for the record books! Your class had to deal with COVID-19 and you missed out on your Junior Year. You adapted to virtual learning basically without any help from anyone except yourselves. You all should be proud of yourselves, and know that whatever the future holds, you will be able to conquer it.

Please know that someone always cares about you. No matter what bad thing life throws at you, you are stronger than it. I want you all to think of yourself as your best friend and follow that person's advice. Don't let "no" stop you from following your dreams. You are all wonderful people, and I am so excited with what you can offer our world. Please make good choices, as you are ALL meant for great things. Be kind to yourself and to others. Remember that you are educated. Your certification is in your degree and your trade. Your ethics and conscience are in your heart. You may think of graduating as a ticket to the Good Life. Let me ask you to think of an alternative. Think of it as your ticket to change the world.

Thank you for allowing me to be your advisor these past four years and BEST OF LUCK to you.

#allinthistogether

The 2020-2021 school year was once again a strange year due to Covid-19, aka coronavirus. We started the year in the middle of September, only going to school for shop a couple days in person, three days online and all academics remotely. By November we transitioned to shop in person four days a week, keeping Wednesday remote and all academics remained online. By May we had transitioned back to full in person school but things were still different. We had to maintain social distance, wear masks and have lunch at tables with dividers. Although we did get to have some normal celebrations like graduation, many things never returned to the way they were. Sports seasons were moved all around, some sports were canceled. Prom was called a garden gala and held in the back parking lot at Tri-County. SkillsUSA was all virtual, there were no class trips and no clubs. We did the best we could and completed our education at Tri-County in a school year like no other. There were many unplanned lessons that came out of this pandemic, most importantly we persevered and completed our high school career. Good luck to you all Class of 2021.

Dear Tri-County Staff,

As our senior year is coming to an end, we would like to thank everyone who had a powerful impact on us during our time at Tri-County.

We arrived at Tri-County from all over the region as scared freshmen who had no idea what we were doing. You were our constant. As seniors this year at Tri-County, we hated distance learning and the situation we are in, but the frequent notes from present and past teachers asking how we were made us feel like we were in this together. In September we saw all your effort to prepare for everything which must have happened during your summer "vacation". You took what could have been a depressing, uninspiring year and made it not perfect, but the very best it could be. So THANK YOU!

Teachers and faculty at Tri-County who were the unsung heroes throughout our four years, Teachers for all the many challenging google meet classes, when you could not figure out how to share your screen, for all the after school help, even when it was inconvenient for you and the quick responses to the panic notes when we did know what an assignment was.
Mrs. Sabasowitz, our class adviser, who helped us get yard signs, class T-shirts, and lead the planning for the amazing, unique, and "Covid safe" Senior events. She has pushed so hard for us in our senior year, and deserves so much credit. Mrs. Martin our athletic director. You fought so hard for us all to have our sports seasons, and to celebrate our last home games ever. The lunch ladies who paid attention to us and made sure we were nourished and full. The nurses who not only took care of our bodies but nurtured our souls as well. The office staff who did an admirable job not rolling your eyes when we once again came in 5 minutes late. The custodians always made sure our needs were met, our classes were clean and safe, and when you had to clean up after our "stupid" experiments (I bet I can throw this bottle of juice and make the trash. Ooopps). Guidance who processed our college applications, and adjustment counselors who saw us at our worst and helped us process and become a little better just by spending time with you. You wonderful people have such important jobs and never get enough credit. so thank you for everything you did for our class the past four years.

Sincerely, Class of 2021

Sports

Disclaimer

In the year 2020 to 2021 a global pandemic took Tri-County sports for a ride. Fall sports was moved to March of 2021 and was referred to as Fall II. Unfortunately, Winter sports, such as boys and girls basketball were unable to have a season, so pictures are from the previous year. Spring sports & wrestling started in May and continued throughout the month of June.

Nothing's the SAME

Seven ways life changed with the pandemic

1 MASKS BECOME A NECESSARY PART OF LIFE

What was once thought a temporary routine became a daily habit. As COVID-19 cases spread across the country last spring, health officials encouraged social distancing, hand washing and mask wearing. By November, 35 states had mask mandates and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommended all people age 2 or older wear a mask in public or around people not in their household. Face coverings became the latest accessory with clothing brands, retail stores and online sites selling multiple types and designs.

2 ONLINE GROCERY ORDERING BOOMS

With families urged to stay home, the digital grocery market skyrocketed. Online sales soared more than 300 percent in the early months of the coronavirus pandemic, according to The Food Industry Association's 2020 report. Statista.com found grocery delivery and pickup surged from $1.2 billion in August 2019 to $7.2 billion in June 2020.

AISLES SWITCH TO ONE WAY

To alleviate crowding, grocery retailers and superstores changed aisles to one-way traffic. Arrows on the floor indicated the path with each row reversing to the opposite direction. Although not always followed, the attempt was to keep shoppers six feet or more apart.

RESTAURANTS STRUGGLE

Lockdowns and coronavirus concerns dramatically limited restaurant traffic, hurting local eateries and national chains. As restrictions eased, restaurants reopened dining rooms, slowly increasing capacity while keeping social distancing measures in place. But business remained slow with many places letting go workers and closing doors.

DRIVE-THRUS, TAKE OUT AND FOOD DELIVERY SAVE THE DAY

While indoor dining numbers plunged, one area of the food industry stayed strong. Tired of constant home cooking, families took advantage of delivery services like Grubhub and Door Dash. Restaurants offered family packs and take-out specials for those willing to venture out. Pizza deliveries thrived while drive-thrus became a lifeline for fast food joints and restaurants.

SAFETY MEASURES PUT IN PLACE

Businesses enacted social distancing measures to keep employees and patrons safe. Banks and grocery stores installed transparent acrylic shields while distancing notices graced floors, noting six feet of separation. Hotels, restaurants, airlines and other companies stepped up cleaning practices to ensure areas were sanitized. Most businesses required masks for entry.

LIFE GOES VIRTUAL

As Americans were encouraged to stay home, offices and schools switched to work-from-home formats. Digital meetings became the norm as everyone worked in a virtual environment.

ENTERTAINMENT

COVID-19 DISRUPTS STAGE & SCREEN

The entertainment industry is hit hard by the pandemic. Studios are forced to shut down or delay production of TV shows and films in many countries. Movies already slated for release are stymied by closed theaters and ordinances against crowds. The only saving graces are streaming services who add millions of subscribers. But even they can't sustain an industry that relies on an audience.

No Time to Die

The highly anticipated 25th installment of the James Bond franchise, "No Time To Die", is the first major studio movie release to be delayed due to COVID-19. The film's release date is initially pushed from April 2020 to November 2020, then April 2021 with speculation that it could fall victim to further delays.

Credit: NBC Universal

Binging Just Got Better

New services join the streaming scene just as the need for in-home content spikes while people remain on lockdown. HBO Max and Peacock make their debut, but short-form video service Quibi only lasts a few months. It turns out we have plenty of time to binge-watch more than just 10-minute episodes.

Live from the Living Room

Musicians, comedians and entertainers lean on social media livestreams as a way to connect with fans as most live events and gatherings are still prohibited throughout the country.

MAR APR MAY JUN JUL

Box Office Busted

Delayed release dates coupled with fear of infection choke out the movie industry. With neither movies nor moviegoers coming to theaters, the industry falls into sharp decline, forcing cinemas to close doors and studios to release new titles direct-to-streaming.

Trolls World Tour

"Trolls" bail on their April theatrical release date and go straight to video, with surprising success.

Stay Home and Be a Hero

More and more people are consuming content from their couches for entertainment. Netflix adds over 25 million new subscribers by the end of the summer.

Event Cancellations

From Burning Man to Broadway, anything that can draw a crowd is shut down. Festivals like SXSW and Coachella, theme parks like Disney, Universal and Six Flags, and expos like TED Talks, Comic Con and BlizzCon are all no-go's.

Live TV Shows Go Home

Talk shows begin broadcasting from wherever the hosts and guests are sheltering in place. "Saturday Night Live" records the final three episodes of their 45th season with cast members submitting footage from their homes, complete with DIY props, wigs and costumes.

Show Business Expenses

Stringent new health and safety guidelines are implemented and cost studios millions of dollars as film and television productions resume. Under new guidelines, a positive COVID-19 test result could delay production by at least two weeks.

I Will Stream Honor to Us All

The next installment of live-action remakes of Disney's classic animated films, "Mulan" is supposed to hit theaters in March 2020. Instead, after multiple delays in release dates, Disney offers the film on their streaming service Disney+ for a premium fee.

Best In Class

For those of us doing distance learning, watching the new crew at Bayside High in the reimagined "Saved by the Bell" series on Peacock is the closest we'll get to seeing our friends between classes.

Tenet Takes a Tumble

Christopher Nolan's "Tenet" has everything a movie needs to be a huge summer blockbuster, except for theaters in which to open and an audience to fill those theaters. After multiple release date delays, the costly production manages to lose $100 million yet still be the 5th highest-grossing movie of 2020.

Star of Wonder, Star of Fight

On Christmas day, "Wonder Woman 1984" simultaneously opens in theaters and on HBO Max.

More Comfy Than Couture

Taking cues from the MTV VMA's and BET Awards, the 2020 Primetime Emmy telecast is the first of Hollywood's major awards ceremonies to move to a virtual format. Nominees are broadcast from 140 different homes and hotels, with a dress code that is "come as you are, but make an effort."

Credit: Richard B. Levine/Newscom

A Break in the Chain

Theater chain AMC loses $900 million in the third quarter of 2020, even as theaters begin reopening.

More Mandalorian, Please

Because there's no such thing as too much Baby Yoda, "The Mandalorian" returns for a second season. The season features a bounty hunter trying to return "The Child" to the Jedi.

2020

COVID-19 TIMELINE

January 7

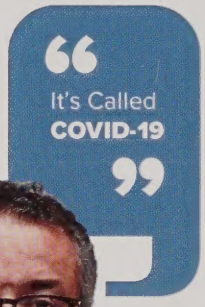
Officials in China identify a novel coronavirus to be the cause of dozens of cases of pneumonia in Wuhan in December 2019.

January 9

The death of a 61-year old man in Wuhan, China is the first known fatality from an illness caused by the novel coronavirus.

January 21

The United States confirms its first coronavirus case — a man in Washington state who recently returned from a trip to the Wuhan area.



January 31

Foreign nationals who had traveled to China within the last 14 days are banned from entering the United States.

February 11

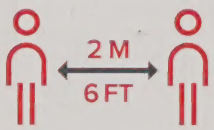
The virus is given a name – COVID-19. The disease caused by the coronavirus is announced by World Health Organization Director-General Tedros Adhanom.

March 11

When Utah Jazz center Rudy Gobert tests positive for COVID-19, the NBA suspends all basketball games.

March 13

Across the U.S., schools begin the process of ending the academic year early amid concerns about the spread of coronavirus.



March 16

Americans are advised to limit gatherings to no more than 10 people, to avoid dining in at restaurants and to refrain from traveling unless absolutely necessary. Household necessities like toilet paper, bread, trash bags, cleaning supplies and hand soap become extremely hard to find in stores and online.

March 23

With almost every country reporting cases, the World Health Organization reports more than 300,000 cases globally. When an emergency stimulus package is rejected by the US Senate, stocks plunge and the Federal Reserve's efforts to inject cash into the national economy fail to stave off market declines.

March 27

As coronavirus cases in the U.S. surpass 100,000, the most in the world, President Trump signs the $2.2 trillion coronavirus aid package bill. More than 1,500 deaths are also reported nationwide.

April 20

Global demand drops and oil prices bottom out reaching negative numbers. A $500 billion coronavirus bill is passed by the Senate and includes money for the small business loan program, hospitals and testing.

May 14

Schools, churches, businesses, restaurants and other organizations are given guidelines for safely re-opening from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

December 2

While the U.S. counts its 14 millionth COVID-19 case, the United Kingdom becomes the first country to officially approve the Pfizer-BioNTech COVID-19 vaccine.

December 8

The first person in the world to receive a dose of a clinically-approved COVID-19 vaccine is 90-year old Margaret Keenan of Britain.

March 31

As a result of the pandemic, Wall Street closes one of the worst quarters in stock market history which is seen as an indication of the toll the pandemic is taking on the national economy.

May 10

The global death toll is nearly 280,000 and Johns Hopkins University reports that coronavirus cases pass the four million mark. In the U.S. more than 80,000 deaths are reported. New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Louisiana, Michigan and California are among the states hit hardest by the pandemic.

November 18

Drug company Pfizer announces they're just days away from submitting a COVID-19 vaccine to the FDA for approval. This comes days after Moderna announces its vaccine, saying it's 94.5 percent effective.

December 11

Pfizer's COVID-19 vaccine is authorized by the FDA for emergency use.

March 30

The Tokyo 2020 Olympic Games are rescheduled for July 2021.

April 3

With the death toll in the US exceeding 7,000 and the number of confirmed cases surpassing 275,500, leading health officials recommend the wearing of cloth face coverings to prevent the spread of the virus.

October 29

More than nine million cases are confirmed in the U.S., contributing to a global total of more than 40 million.

December 14

Widespread rollout of the vaccine begins in the U.S., with healthcare workers and residents of long-term care facilities among the first recipients. The country's COVID-19-related death toll exceeds 300,000.

JAKE PAOLINO-SARCIA

SON, I CLOSED MY EYES FOR BUT A MOMENT AND SUDDENLY A MAN STOOD WHERE A BOY USED TO BE. I MAY NOT CARRY YOU NOW IN MY ARMS BUT I WILL ALWAYS CARRY YOU IN MY HEART. YOU HAVE GIVEN ME SO MANY REASONS TO BE PROUD OF THE MAN YOU HAVE BECOME, BUT THE PROUDEST MOMENT FOR ME IS TELLING OTHERS THAT YOU ARE MY SON. I LOVE YOU NOW AND FOREVER

Jake,

It feels like it was yesterday that you headed to your first day of kindergarden. Now you are 18, a high school graduate and an amazing young man. Can't even begin to express how proud we are of you. We wish you a bright and successful future, many many healthy happy years, the confidence to dare and the compassion to care. Most of all, always believe in yourself and never, ever forget that we will be here for you throughout the end of time.

Behind you, all your memories.
Before you, all your dreams.
Around you, all that love you.
Within you, All you need.

WE LOVE YOU DUDE XOXOXO

LUCAS CELESTE

"Take pride in how far you have come. Have faith in how far you can go, But don't forget to enjoy the journey." - Michael Josephson

Congratulations, Lucas! We are so proud of you not only because of what you've accomplished, but because of who you are.

We love you so much!
Mom, Dad, and Adrianna

ADAM LACASSE

We knew early on that you were a kind and special person. Helping out at home, church, school, and karate have made you a well-rounded individual. We always receive positive and genuine comments from everyone who spends time with you. We have always appreciated that even though your mother and I may not see that side of you as often as we used to. We understand being a teenager is difficult, we were there once as well, especially during COVID19 (2020-2021). This past year you were isolated and missed out on many things. Though this was unfortunate, it is just another thing that defines your character. You have many gifts specifically with music, if you enjoy it pursue it. The old adage "if you love what you do you'll never work a day in your life" sounds like something to aim for!

As you are preparing to graduate from Tri-County Vocational High School, we wanted to let you know how proud we are of you. Though it has not always been easy on us to push you forward in all of your studies, we hope you truly understand why we did it. Even though you are an adult, we will continue to encourage you to do great things. Graduating high school is not the end but the beginning, So please continue to be who you are! You are a caring, honest, and intelligent individual. Please continue to keep safety as a top priority in everything you do.

We love you so much!!

Mom & Dad

DAVID LUSK

Congratulations, David!!
I am so proud of you.
Keep smiling and reach for the stars!

Love you,
Mom

ROBERT PATURZO

Robbie,
I can't believe that you are already Graduating. I am so proud of all you have accomplished, especially this past year. I can't wait to see what the future holds for you. I am so blessed to have you as a son and I'm very proud of you.
Love you always, Mom

EMMA BLAKE

"Sometimes the future changes, and we're left with only the choice of what to do next. We can choose to be afraid of it, to stand there trembling not moving, assuming the worst that can happen or we step forward into the unknown and assume it will be brilliant." -Christina Yang

Congratulations Emma Jeanne, we are so proud of you and we love you so much! You will do amazing things kiddo!!

Love always and forever,
Mom, Dad & Kyle

CHRISTINE PARKER

Congratulations, Christine!

You have come a long way on your school journey. We are very proud of you and all you have accomplished. You have a good heart, are hard-working and determined. Wishing you all the best as you head into the next chapter of your life. Best wishes to you and all of the Class of 2021 at TC!

Love, Mom & Dad
